Key Takeaways

Armored optical cables in Malta typically range from €5 to €15 per meter, depending on specifications and length. Price Overview

Armored fiber optic cables, designed for durability and protection against physical damage, are available from multiple suppliers in Malta. For example, Vesperia armored network fiber optic cables with SC/APC connectors and OS2 single-mode fiber are sold in lengths starting from 3 meters, with prices reflecting the quality, stainless steel reinforcement, and LSZH jacket for safety and outdoor use. Shorter patch cables may cost around €5–€10 per meter, while longer or specialized cables can reach €15 per meter or more depending on length and customization.

Factors Affecting Cost

- Cable Type: Single-mode (OS2) cables are generally more expensive than multi-mode due to higher performance and lower attenuation.
- Length: Prices are often quoted per meter, with bulk reels available on request, which may reduce the per-meter cost.
- Armoring and Jacket Material: Stainless steel reinforcement and LSZH (low smoke zero halogen) jackets increase durability and cost.

- Connectors: Pre-terminated cables with SC/APC or other connectors are more expensive than bare cables .
 - Supplier: Local suppliers like Fabian Enterprises Ltd and online retailers such as Desertcart Malta offer different pricing and shipping options .
- Where to Buy
- Fabian Enterprises Ltd: Offers armored ship and fiber optic cables with prices per meter and reels on request .
 - Desertcart Malta: Stocks Vesperia armored fiber optic patch cables in various lengths, suitable for indoor and outdoor installations .
 - AtoZ Electronics: Provides a range of fiber optic cables with free delivery to Malta and Gozo, including armored options .

Recommendation

For a typical home or small business installation, expect to pay €5–€15 per meter for armored optical cables, with longer runs or specialized cables potentially costing more. It is advisable to request quotes for bulk reels if planning extensive installations, as this can reduce overall cost. Always check the specifications to ensure compatibility with your network equipment and environmental requirements.
