Key Takeaways

Plastic cable trays typically range from $10 to $50 per meter, depending on size, type, and supplier.

Plastic or PVC cable trays are widely used for organizing and supporting electrical cables in industrial, commercial, and residential settings. Prices vary based on tray width, length, load capacity, and design (solid, perforated, or ladder style) as well as certifications like CE or compliance with DIN EN 61537 standards .

Typical Price Ranges

- Small under-desk or wall-mounted trays: $10-$20 per meter
- Standard industrial PVC trays: $20-$35 per meter
- Heavy-duty or ventilated ladder-style trays: $35-$50 per meter

Factors Affecting Price

- Material quality: Halogen-free or flame-retardant plastics cost more.
- Tray type: Ladder, perforated, or solid trays have different manufacturing costs.
- Length and width: Wider or longer trays increase material usage and price.

- Supplier and shipping: Local suppliers may offer lower prices than international vendors, but bulk orders often reduce per-meter cost.

Where to Buy

- Industrial suppliers like RS Philippines offer a wide selection of PVC and plastic trays with competitive pricing and nationwide delivery .
- Online marketplaces such as Amazon or Alibaba provide options for smaller quantities or specialized sizes .
- Specialized electrical suppliers like Ekabel24 provide certified trays suitable for professional installations . For accurate budgeting, it is recommended to specify the tray type, dimensions, and load requirements when requesting quotes from suppliers, as these factors significantly influence the final price.
