Key Takeaways

Sheet metal cable trays in West Africa typically range from $15 to $80 per meter, depending on material, finish, and type.Price Overview

The cost of sheet metal cable trays varies based on material, finish, and design:

- Pre-galvanised steel trays (light-duty, suitable for mild corrosion) generally cost $15-$30 per meter. These are ideal for indoor or less corrosive environments .
- Hot-dip galvanised trays (medium to heavy-duty, higher corrosion resistance) are priced around $25-$50 per meter, suitable for industrial or outdoor installations .
- Stainless steel trays (grades 304 or 316, for highly corrosive environments) can range from $50-$80 per meter, offering maximum durability and longevity . Tray types also influence pricing:
- Perforated trays and wire mesh trays are generally less expensive than ladder-type trays, which are heavier and designed for larger cable loads .

- Custom sizes or powder-coated finishes may increase the cost by 10-20% depending on supplier capabilities .

Sourcing in West Africa

While most suppliers listed are based in South Africa, companies like Hutaib Electrical provide manufacturing and distribution across Africa, including West African countries . Local distributors or importers in Nigeria, Ghana, and Ivory Coast often stock standard sizes and finishes, but shipping and import duties can affect final prices.

Recommendations

- Request quotes from multiple suppliers to compare prices, especially for bulk orders.
- Specify material and finish based on environmental conditions to avoid overpaying for unnecessary corrosion resistance.
- Consider local distributors to reduce shipping costs and lead times. By considering these factors, you can expect to pay $15-$80 per meter for sheet metal cable trays in West Africa, with exact pricing depending on material, tray type, and supplier .
